At the conference

We will temporarily transform a demarcated zone for rapid conceptualization, production and circulation of the knowledge at the conference. Real-time posts of images, text and video will reveal the performative aspects of art production.

The project proceeds with a rapid-fire editorial selection process. A short-run production of the "eventual zine" will be available and open to download from the web.

The project concludes on the Saturday 16th Nov, with a quick and dirty public exhibition, free circulation of the zine and distribution of images via social media.
